School Report.

Fellow townsmen:

In submitting the school report for the past year, I think I can say, on the whole, we have received good returns for the money expended. The average attendance has been all that could be expected. I think, from what I learn from other towns, we are "breaking in" rather more than our share of young teachers. Some agents have hired teachers who have taught one or more terms in the same district and, invariably, good schools were the result. Better results could be had if the town would, by their votes, re-district some parts of the town. There are at the present time in these districts less scholars, by far, than formerly and yet we persist in keeping these old district limits, established years ago when the lines of travel were different, when the farms within the limits of the district were all occupied. But all that is changed and, I say, it is far better for a scholar to go a mile or more to school where they can have two terms a year, than it is to have a school-house right in their own door-yard where they can have but one term a year and a short one at that.

Owing to some schools being in session at the time of making this report I could not make a tabulated report as I would like to have done.

In regard to text-books, judging from what books I find in town, I should say that when our books were bought that number and not worth was taken into consideration. For I find, upon examination, that there were but very few books in town that cost very high and consequently what books have been bought the year past, with a few exceptions, are books that cost from 80 cents to $1.25 each, and we are short now in those kinds. I would recommend that the town raise for the coming year $50.00 for the purchase of such books as we may need, which I think, will be sufficient with what we have.

DISTRICT No. 1,—J. R. FOSTER, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Oneida M. York. Visited this school at the beginning and found it orderly and working hard. But owing to sickness the term was brought to a sudden close, therefore cannot report amount of work done.

Winter Term, taught by Miss Grace E. Foster. Quite an amount of trouble was caused by some misunderstanding in hiring a teacher; which caused a division of the district and a part of the scholars were sent to the adjoining district to school. The old adage still holds good in this case: that "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Therefore, I hope the district will get into line and all pull together the coming year. Circumstances, which I could not control, prevented me from visiting this term at its close therefore I am unable to report amount of work done.

DISTRICT No. 2,—O. G. WHITMAN, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Ethel Hammons. This was Miss Hammons' first term; she worked hard and the term was very profitable.

Fall Term, taught by same teacher with equally good results. Miss Hammons, with experience, will make one of the best of teachers.

Winter Term, taught by Elmer E. Tuell. Mr. Tuell is one of the best of instructors and the district is fortunate which secures his services.

DISTRICTS No. 3 & No. 4,—GEORGE TUBBS, Agent.

These two districts united and had two terms by so doing.

Summer Term, consisting of all small scholars, was taught by Miss Maud L. Swan, and as good work was done as could be expected.

Winter Term, taught by Mrs. Ella Bryant. The district was fortunate in securing such an efficient teacher. I think the town should, at their annual meeting, unite these two districts and by so doing give more and better schooling for the scholars in either districts than they can possibly have as they now are.

DISTRICT No. 5,—E. W. PENLEY, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Angie E. Penley. This was Miss Penley's second term in this district and good work was done.

Winter Term, taught by E. C. Herrick. This was Mr. Herrick's first term; although I think he worked hard, he lacked in discipline and, consequently, the term was not as profitable as it might have been, but a fair amount of work was done.

DISTRICT No. 7,—THOMAS KENNAGH, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Jennie L. Coffin. Miss Coffin is a practical teacher; and good and thorough work was done.

Winter Term was under the management of Miss Grace Bartlett, who taught a profitable term. This district needs a chart and wall maps, which would be very beneficial to the scholars and a help to the teacher as well.

DISTRICT No. 8,—DANIEL BRYANT, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Annie C. Bryant. This is Miss Bryant's own district, yet she did good work, and taught a profitable term.

Winter Term, taught by G. Q. Perham. Mr. Perham is a practical teacher and no doubt good work was done. This term was cut short by order of the board of health.

DISTRICT No. 9,—CHARLES CROSS, Agent.

No Summer term.

Winter Term, taught by F. B. Chase. This was the smallest school in town. Some means should be taken to unite this school (for the present at least) with districts No. 10 and No. 7, for it is impossible to do anything like good work with so few pupils. Mr. Chase did as good work as could be expected with so few scholars.

DISTRICT No. 10,—A. W. HERRICK, Agent.

Summer and Fall Terms, taught by Miss Edith L. Farnham. Miss Farnham worked hard and the school made good progress under her management.

Winter Term, taught by Miss Bertha Wayland. Miss Wayland is one of the best of instructors, her methods of teaching being instructive and practical. The district would do well to secure her services for another year.

DISTRICT No. 11,—SYLVESTER COLE, Agent.

Miss Fannie E. Brooks has taught this school throughout the year, and the school has made good advancement under her charge. This district should make some much needed repairs on their house, thereby making it more comfortable for both teacher and scholars.

DISTRICT No. 12,—L. R. MARTIN, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Mrs. Nellie Herrick. I think she worked hard and was fairly successful.

Winter Term, taught by Miss Oneida M. York. Although the school was small, good work was done.

DISTRICT No. 13,—J. W. CARTER, Agent.

Summer Term, taught by Miss Bessie B. Towne. This was Miss Towne's first term; her work was conscientious and entirely satisfactory.

Winter Term, taught by Miss Hannah J. Noyes. Miss Noyes is a teacher of much experience, and thorough work was done.

Respectfully submitted,

G. W. RICHARDSON,

Supervisor.
